DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. The claims appear to recite portions of the actual building structure, formwork to assist in casting in-situ various building components and a positioning template to assist in positioning formwork.

It is impossible to ascertain what exactly the claim is drawn to. Building structures, formwork and templates are all separate inventions and are independently patentable.

The claims are so confusing as to make a comparison to prior art impossible at this time.

For applicant's response to be complete, he must clarify exactly what invention the claims are drawn to and amend the claims accordingly.

It is highly suggested that applicant, in his remarks, indicate which of the 269 drawing figures relate to which claims to assist the examiner in relating the specification to the claims for a complete and accurate understanding of he claims.
